For Sale—A few tons of mixed hay, also some fodder. Apply to Wm. H. Martin.

Wheat is quoted today by our local dealers at $1.09 and corn at 68 cents a bushel.

For Rent—A six-room dwelling-house near Shepherdstown. Apply to Miss M. C. Kepling.

Mrs. Bertha Athey will have sale of household goods, etc., on Saturday in Shepherdstown.

For trees, shrubs, roses, vines, grapes and "K's" Delicious" apple trees, see Robert Gibson, representative.

It is said that water will be turned into the C. & O. canal on Saturday, and navigation will be opened some time next week.

See me before buying a manure spreader, the 20th Century spreads 20 feet to a round, and is guaranteed to please you. H. T. Licklider.

The dog poisoner is still at work. The small brown dog belonging to J. Fred Kepling got a dose of the first of the week that ended its career.

Thieves last night robbed Miss Bettie Hill's chicken roost of three fat hens. This is the second raid they have made on her chickens recently.

D. Frank Hill's sale will take place on Friday of this week. He has some fine Jersey cattle, 3 of fine mules and other desirable live stock.

Examinations for the close of the winter term of Shepherd College are being held this week. The spring term will begin next Tuesday, March 28th.

The Ladies' Guild of the Hospital will meet Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the study hall of the new college. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Morehead Miller and family extend thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sad bereavement in the death of husband and father.

Wanted—A middle-aged woman to keep house on small farm for a widower and one child. Reference required. Address B. J. Byers, Route 3, Martinsburg.

There will be a festival at Van Metre's school-house for the benefit of the school on March 24. Chicken soup, icecream, cake, coffee, etc. The public is invited.

The barn of M. L. McCloy, two miles from Inwood, Berkeley county, was destroyed by fire last Saturday night. Five horses, a cow and a calf were burned to death.

Miss M. Coopers Kepling, who returned home from the hospital in Charles Town last week, is very much improved and is able to attend to her accustomed duties.

Ten per cent discount during March on all watches, diamonds and jewelry at S. L. Cooley's, Shenandoah Junction. All jewelry sold on easy weekly or monthly payments.

The Edgewood school will hold an old-time chicken soup and icecream festival Tuesday night, March 28th. All are cordially invited to be present. Benefit of school library.

Having had a telephone installed in my office, I will promptly respond to all night calls and other requests for my services as veterinarian. Phone number 23R. Dr. W. A. Coyner.

A parents' meeting will be held at the Shepherdstown Graded School next Monday evening at 7 o'clock, and all parents of pupils and friends of the school are invited and urged to be present.

J. R. Kibler, the DuPonts merchant, spent several days in Baltimore this week purchasing new goods, making special selections in all lines. He requests your early inspection of these values.

We have for sale a very desirable tract of 80 acres of good limestone land within a couple of miles of Shepherdstown. Fine location, on splendid road, with desirable surroundings. H. L. Snyder & Co.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Morris B. Baker, in Washington, twin daughters, one of which died a few hours after birth. Mrs. Baker was formerly Miss Ora Akers, sister of Mrs. Chas. R. Owens, of Shepherdstown.

Billy, Ruth and Ned Myers, south of town, just love to go to school now. The reason is that they have a nice little pony and runabout, and they feel very important at being able to drive to and from the village school all by themselves.

Levi M. Porter and John P. Keatly, of this county, were re-elected members of the board of directors of the Adamant Clay Products Company, of North Mountain, Berkeley county, at the annual meeting of stockholders in Martinsburg last week.

Bernard D. Keedy, aged 28 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Keedy, of Martinsburg, was struck and instantly killed last Thursday by a B. & O. freight train. He was walking along the railroad tracks just east of town when he was run down by the locomotive.

"I wonder if it will hurt me to take all this medicine," said John Reese to his landlady in Hagerstown last Friday, as he held sixteen tablets in his hand. Then he swallowed them. Soon afterward he was seized with convulsions and in an hour or two he was dead. Reese was a painter and had been despondent because of deaths in his family.

Mrs. James S. Phillips, regent of Pack Horse Ford Chapter of the D. A. R., of Shepherdstown, has had placed in Gibson's drug store window a copy of the flag law of West Virginia. This law was passed by the untiring work of the D. A. R., last winter. This makes West Virginia the 38th State having a flag law, counting Porto Rico. This work was instigated by the State Regent, Mrs. Parks Fisher, of Morgantown. The law provides penalties for improper use of the flag in any way, such as using it for advertising purposes, etc.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Last Thursday evening a meeting was held in Shepherdstown for the purpose of organizing a company of Boy Scouts, and much interest was manifested. Number of boys agreed to join the organization and further action will be taken.

Oliver M. Merchant has been appointed rural mail carrier on the new automobile route out of Charles Town. This is one of the first automobile routes to be established in West Virginia, and in effect here because the good roads of this county make it practicable. The new service will begin about the first of April.

The second team of Shepherd College and the second team of the Martinsburg High School had a lively game of basketball here last Saturday night. The college youngsters played brilliantly, winning by the score of 45 to 3. The visitors kept up the fight to the very last, but they were hopelessly beaten from the start.

We have a very interesting account of the battle a couple of weeks ago at Columbus, N. M., between United States troops and the soldiers and bandits led by Villa, in which our fellow-countryman, Lieut. J. P. Lucas, took a prominent part. The account was given in the last issue, but we will publish it next week.

In another column may be found the announcement of D. Z. Royer as a candidate for the office of county commissioner from Middleway district. Royer is one of Jefferson county's most progressive farmers and stock-raisers and is besides a thoroughly competent business man. He is worthy the support of the people.

Sheriff J. W. Gardner has received from the State Treasurer the sum of $31,565.44 as Jefferson county's share of the State tax imposed upon the public service corporations and which is collected by the Board of Public Works. This is several thousand dollars more than the amount received last year. It is a big help to the county and district funds of Jefferson.

Yesterday evening a north-bound freight train on the Norfolk & Western Railway was pulling away from Shenandoah Junction an axle of one of the cars broke, and the car was derailed. The damaged car dragged along for some distance before the train was stopped, cutting in two about 300 cross-ties and damaging the tracks for 600 feet. No person was hurt nor was any other car derailed, but all trains were delayed about two and a-half hours.

The Green Hill Orchard Company, which owns sixty-five acres of bearing apple trees about three miles northeast of Charles Town, has been reorganized, with John W. Connelley, of Connelley, Pa., in charge as manager. All of the old obligations have been paid off, and the new company will make improvements to the property. An expert has been employed to superintend the work of spraying and pruning the orchards this spring.

The famous old Virginia Free Press, which has been published in Charles Town for more than a hundred years, published its last issue on Thursday, March 16th. William Campbell, who has owned it for several years, sold it to Robert C. Kissler, of the Farmers' Advertiser, and Clayton L. Hays, of the Spirit of Jefferson, who closed it up. Two papers are ample for Charles Town, of course, but we are sorry to see the passing of this good old weekly.

Winter stayed with us until the very last and yielded to spring reluctantly. Cold, rough weather prevailed until Tuesday, when the sun came out and according to the almanac, spring came in on time with several thunder storms and an equinoctial rain that prevailed yesterday, but a cold wave followed and there was a freeze-up this morning. We have had a long, rough winter and everybody is hoping that spring will soon be here in all its mildness and beauty.

The first regular rehearsal on the Easter cantata, "The Greatest Love," was held on Thursday evening last. There were some 25 persons present and all agreed that the music is very pretty and suitable. There is room for 25 other voices, and it is hoped that more singers will be present at the rehearsal tonight, Thursday. There is no charge, unless you desire to purchase one of the books, as an extra supply of books was purchased for those not wanting to buy for themselves. All singers in the country are invited, as well as those in town. Thursday night at 7:30.

The Martinsburg Glee Club will give a minstrel performance in the opera house in Shepherdstown Friday night of this week under the direction of Dr. G. Bruce Geyer, and a delightful entertainment may be expected. There are 42 singers and entertainers in the company, which consists of its own orchestra. This show was given in Martinsburg last Friday night and gave a great hit. Manager Musser has induced the performers to come to Shepherdstown, and they ought to have a good time. The company has been a long time since we have had a good minstrel show here. The admission will be 35 cents for reserved seats, which are now on sale at Gibson's drug store. The company will rise at 15.

There were two interesting exhibits at Shepherd College last week—that of the manual training department, under Prof. McTearnan, and that of the domestic science department, in charge of Miss Cowell. The young men showed some of the latest in the way of woodwork, among which were book-racks, tables, bird houses, clothes trees, trays and other articles, and it was apparent that there is talent in this line that ought to be further developed. The manual training department, it is evident, is doing most excellent work. The exhibit of the young ladies was thoroughly good, as manifested by the completed garments that they had made. Beautiful shirt-waists, kimono and other articles were neatly and skillfully made, and in these days when the high cost of living is such a burden it is going to encourage many a young man to know that he will have a chance to win a wife who can make her own clothes.

W. C. Lipscomb, State Inspector of Weights and Measures, was in the county a few days, and with O. L. Watson, sealer of weights and measures for this county, went over the local situation in regard to the new law regulating weights and measures. The new regulations are rather drastic in their provisions. It is important that merchants and hucksters should become acquainted with them. Everybody engaged in buying or selling by weight or measure must have their scales and measures stamped by the Sealer of Weights and Measures. Sixty pounds of Irish potatoes must be given for a bushel and 15 pounds for a peck; 50 pounds of apples to the bushel. The new regulations are in effect from the first of April, 1916.

Some interesting facts have developed in connection with a life insurance policy carried by the late Roger Ballenger, who was fatally injured in a stone quarry near Martinsburg on February 7th. The policy was for $1,000 in a fraternal insurance order. It had been allowed to lapse for nonpayment of dues in the month of January, but a provision in the by-laws of the order permitted the insured to be reinstated upon the payment of all arrears within sixty days from the time the policy lapsed, conditional upon the person insured being in good health at the time of such payment. George Ballenger, father of the young man, paid the arrears to the local treasurer of the order on the morning of the accident, but more than an hour before the news of it reached him. Subsequent details about the accident showed that the young man had been injured about an hour before the payment was made. The interesting question arising in the case is, was the insured "in good health" while suffering from the effects of the accident.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Mr. Harrison Schley is spending this week in Martinsville, Va., where he attended the wedding last Saturday of Miss Anna Greene Mullins, of that city, to Mr. Clifton Philip Huff, of Roanoke. The bride, who is a cousin of Mrs. Schley, has visited in Shepherdstown, where she is remembered as a very sweet and charming girl.

Among our callers on Monday was Mr. Nelson T. Snyder, of the Shenandoah Junction neighborhood. He is a candidate for sheriff of Jefferson county, subject to the Democratic primaries, and we can say for him that he is worthy the support of the people.

Rev. Absalom Knox and Mr. W. P. Licklider are in Alexandria, Va., this week attending the sessions of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church South. Mrs. Licklider is visiting her relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. O. M. Harris, of the Bardane neighborhood, was among our callers Tuesday. Mr. Harris is a candidate for sheriff, subject to the Democratic primaries, and says that he is in the fight to a finish.

Miss Irene Golliday and Miss Pauline Rodeffer, of Charles Town, have been visiting Misses Eleanor and Catherine Crowl in Shepherdstown this week.

Mr. Richard Knott left on Monday for Harrisburg, Pa., where he expects to make his home in the future, having secured a position in that city.

Miss Lizzie Brotherton is spending this week in Washington and is also attending the Methodist Conference in session in Alexandria.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Grove have gone to Harper's Ferry, where Mr. Grove is helping to manage Dittmeyer's drug store.

Mrs. Thos. C. Miller, who spent the past couple of months at her home in Tennessee, has returned to Shepherdstown.

Mrs. Wilbur Nicodemus, of Brunswick, Md., has been here this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Frazier.

Mrs. Ella McCleary, of Baltimore, is in Shepherdstown to spend a week or two with her sister, Mrs. H. M. Turner.

Mr. Jacob H. Hagley, of Shenandoah Junction, has gone to Page county, Va., to spend some time with his sister.

Among our callers from out of town the past week were Messrs. Wm. A. Fulk, G. W. Myers and J. G. Gano.

Miss Corinne Rogers has gone to Cumberland, Md., for a visit to friends in that city and neighboring towns.

Mr. Luther Vickers, from north of town, was among our callers yesterday.

Bonding Company Makes Good.

The United States Fidelity and guarantee Company of Baltimore has made settlement with Sheriff J. W. Gardner, of Jefferson county, on account of the alleged misappropriation of funds by Deputy Sheriff C. B. Wentzell. Deputy Wentzell, for the protection of Sheriff Gardner, was bonded by the above-named company, and it has now acknowledged its liability and made settlement with Sheriff Gardner.

Mr. Gardner informs us that the company has acted well in the matter and its settlement is entirely satisfactory to him. The amount involved was around $4,150, and the company has sent him a check for $4,000, in full for its release from further liability. Mr. Wentzell, it will be recalled, was indicted by the February grand jury for the misappropriation of the public funds, but the indictment was faulty and was thrown out by the court. His case will come before the grand jury again at its May session, and it is said that the bonding company will push the prosecution.

The Rumsey Monument.

The crowning section of the Rumsey monument, a granite globe weighing eight tons, was put in place on Tuesday, thus completing the monument itself, and the memorial now stands in bold outline on the cliff overlooking the Potomac river. It is a fine piece of work, and the Forbes Granite Company, of Chambersburg, Pa., has completed the contract thus far in the most satisfactory manner. The monument, which is 75 feet high, is of hammered Woodstock granite, in the form of an Ionic column, topped with a carved capital and plinth supporting a large globe. It is a splendid piece of workmanship, and the shaft may be seen for a long distance in every direction. The platform is yet to be finished and the grounds are to be improved before the project is completed. At a meeting of the society here yesterday a committee was instructed to take the necessary steps for imposing dedicatory services some time during the coming summer.

Shakespearean Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, of Washington, formerly of this place, have generously agreed to give a "Shakespearean Evening" in Shepherdstown on Friday night, April 7th. The simple announcement that these talented artists are to appear in Shakespearean roles ought to secure a crowded house, to say nothing of the good cause for which the proceeds are to be devoted. The money is for the Hospital Guild of this place, an object that should appeal to every one. After the performance, which will be given in Firemen's hall, an informal reception will be held, and a supper will be served for the benefit of the Hospital Guild. The Hospital Guild of this place, an object that should appeal to every one. After the performance, which will be given in Firemen's hall, an informal reception will be held, and a supper will be served for the benefit of the Hospital Guild.

Notes of the Churches.

The one hundred and thirty-second annual session of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church South began in Alexandria, Va., yesterday. Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon, of Texas, is presiding. Of the 204 pastors in the conference, only 31 will have to be given new appointments because of the time limit.

The service in Elk Branch Church will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. instead of 11 a. m. Services in Zion Presbyterian Church at 3 p. m. All the members of the congregation are urged to be present at this service.

M. E. Church—Service Sunday at Mt. Wesley at 10:30 a. m. and in Shepherdstown at 7 p. m. This will be the last Sunday before the annual conference.

There will be communion service Sunday in the Shepherdstown Presbyterian Church at 11 a. m. Rev. J. C. Siler will preach and conduct the service.

Lutheran—Service Sunday at Uvilla at 11 a. m. and in Shepherdstown at 7 p. m.

Death's Call Comes To Many.

Our community was shocked and surprised last Sunday morning when the news was circulated that Mr. William Moorehead Miller, one of our most estimable residents, had suddenly expired at his home in this place. Mr. Miller had been in ill health for some weeks past, having suffered from an affection of the heart, but he seemed to be getting better. Sunday morning shortly before eleven o'clock while sitting in the living room at his home talking with his wife and a visitor, apparently as well as he had been for the last week or two, his head fell to one side and he became unconscious. Before a physician could reach his side he was dead, having expired almost immediately.

Mr. Miller, who was 65 years of age, was a native of Berkeley county, having lived most of his life in the Greensburg neighborhood, where he followed farming. Two years ago he retired from active work and bought a house in Shepherdstown, moving here with his family. He was a man of the most exemplary character, kind-hearted and affable, and had a wide circle of friends and relatives who will mourn his death. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Van Metre, and eight daughters and two sons, as follows: J. Harry Hollida, Shepherdstown; Mrs. L. J. Lemaster, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Roy Tabler, Mrs. Garland Byers, Mrs. David Hensel and Mrs. Mary Hollida, of the Scramble neighborhood; Misses Anna and Eva Miller, at home; and Messrs. James and Frank Miller, of Berkeley county. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at his late home at 11 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. I. D. Worman, of the Lutheran Church. The remains were interred in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Nellie Reynolds Britner, wife of Mr. Wm. J. Britner, died very suddenly Tuesday morning at her home just south of town. Mrs. Britner had been in failing health for some months past with an affection of the kidneys. A few weeks ago she was taken to Charles Town for treatment in the hospital there, but no relief was afforded, and she was brought back home. She grew steadily worse, and while it was feared that she would not recover, her death was sudden at the last.

Mrs. Britner, who was 50 years of age, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Show, of this place. Her early life was spent here, but after her marriage she lived for some years in the Pittsburgh neighborhood. The family returned to Shepherdstown seven years ago. Mrs. Britner, who was a member of the Reformed Church, was a good woman and possessed many admirable qualities. She is survived by her husband and four children: Mrs. C. W. Little, of Pittsburgh; Wm. J. Britner, Jr., of Roanoke; and Miss Hortense and Richard, at home. The funeral will take place this Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The service is to be conducted by Rev. I. D. Worman and the body will be interred in Elmwood Cemetery.

James T. Hopper, a well-known resident of Martinsburg, died suddenly at his home in that city early Monday morning from heart trouble. He was 69 years old. Mr. Hopper was a native of Rappahannock county, Va. Many years ago he visited Shepherdstown, and he met and married Miss Fannie Etchison, of this vicinity. She died a few years afterward, and he later married Miss Marietta Sprinkle, near Greensburg. She survives him, together with a son by the first wife and two sons and a daughter of the second marriage.

Jerome B. Coyle, a Confederate veteran and a well-known farmer, died last week at his home north of Charles Town, after an illness of but a few days from pneumonia. He was 72 years old. During the Civil War Mr. Coyle served in Company A, Twelfth Virginia Cavalry, and was a daring and gallant soldier. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Miss Mattie Coyle, a sister, Miss Mattie Coyle, and five brothers: Geo. F. Coyle, of Charleston, W. Va.; Edward L. Coyle, of Seattle, Wash.; Julius, of Berkeley county, and C. Nelson and Leslie Coyle, of Summit Point.

On March 12th Rev. Dr. Philip D. Stephenson a retired Presbyterian minister who was for many years pastor of the church at Woodstock, Va., died at his home in Richmond, Va., after a long illness. On March 17th his wife, Mrs. Jennie Stephenson, also passed away, after a brief illness from pneumonia. Both were buried in the cemetery at Richmond. Dr. and Mrs. Stephenson, who had been happily married for forty years, had friends in Shepherdstown, who will be sorry to learn of the death of these gentle, lovable Christians.

Mrs. Virginia Gardner Trussell, widow of James T. Trussell, died last Saturday at her home near Kearneysville, after a brief illness, in the 58th year of her age. She was a woman of eminent Christian character, and will be greatly missed in the community where she was so highly regarded. She is survived by a son, James W. Trussell, and two daughters, Mrs. Lynn Grantham and Mrs. Hoyle. She was buried in Charles Town on Monday.

Hon. John J. Davis, one of West Virginia's most honored and respected citizens, died at his home in Clarksburg last week, at the age of 80 years. He was noted as a lawyer, and had twice served as a member of Congress from his district. He was the father of Hon. John W. Davis, Solicitor-General of the United States.

John M. Butler, a respected resident of Ridgeway, Berkeley county, died very suddenly last Saturday evening from heart failure, in the 68th year of his age. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, one of the daughters being Mrs. Annie Rowland, of Summit Point, this county.

Thomas Spates, a Confederate veteran, formerly of Loudoun county, Va., died last Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Potts, at Engle's. During the Civil War he was an orderly sergeant in Company A, White's Battalion. He is survived by two daughters.

Rev. Samuel A. Parker, pastor of the Southern Methodist church of Berryville and Marvin Chapel, in Clarke county, died last week, after a long illness, aged 58 years. He had served these churches for four years. Surviving him are his wife and one daughter.

Rev. Wm. A. Fallon, pastor of the Catholic Church of Martinsburg some years ago, died last Saturday in Norfolk, Va., after a long illness.

Edward Clayton Russler died in Martinsburg last Thursday night, after a long illness from consumption, aged 24 years.

SHARPSBURG NEWS.

An invitation has been given and accepted by the Catholic Indian Band to attend the memorial exercises at Antietam National Cemetery May 30th, providing the committee will meet their demands. If they come they will bring 40 members and a drum major.

Marion Eavey, who is employed at Station Grim's, has a very sore leg from a bruise, disabling him from work. Fishing is good in the Antietam at Myers' Mill. Edgar Hammond caught a fine 10-pound boy on St. Patrick's day.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday evening at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. A. A. Kerlin, when Mrs. Bessie McGraw and Mr. J. William Fisher, Jr., both of Sharpsburg, were united in marriage. Those who witnessed the ceremony were Miss Amenta E. Snively, sister of the bride, Mrs. Mae M. Davis, and Mr. Silas Shipley and Mr. William Miller, both of Sharpsburg. At 9:30 p. m. a fine supper was served to the wedding party. The many friends of the bride and groom extend their congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will spend their honeymoon in Roanoke, Va.

Lawrence Easterday, Jacob and Joseph Wyand, and Mrs. Jacob Wyand and Wm. Easterday went to Waynesboro, Va., to attend the funeral of Martin Wyand, a relative, who died of tuberculosis of the stomach. Mr. Wyand was aged 37 years. He was engaged in the bakery business and was a former resident of this vicinity, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron C. Wyand.

Samuel H. Neikirk is confined to his home again, suffering with rheumatism. John W. Fisher, who has been housed up for some time, was down street on Tuesday looking around. He fell and hurt himself while in Hagerstown during the winter.

Houston Carnahan will take a car load of mules and boys to the vicinity of Clear Spring next week to bring their mules back, about 40 or more being wintered there. The water comes in the canal Saturday of this week.

While working at the jitney bus on Tuesday James Springer had his left arm badly torn by being caught by the drive shaft. John Gouf came to his assistance and stopped the motion.

Mrs. Edward F. Alderton has returned to Berkeley, W. Va., after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mongan. They will go to housekeeping in one of the new houses built at Berkeley.

Samuel Nail Bowers has had his house repaired and papered and Mirvin DeLaunay will paint it. He has rented it to Benjamin Stride, who sold his home at the Miller saw mill and will move in next week.

PUBLIC SALE

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court of Jefferson county, West Virginia, entered on 10th day of March, 1916, in the chancery suit therein pending, in which Frederick Kidwiler, complainant, and Frank Kidwiler, et al., were defendants, undersigned, J. S. Osborn, Clerk of said court, in front of the court-house, in Charles Town, West Virginia, on Saturday, April 8th, 1916,

commencing at 10 o'clock a. m., the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract of land lying at Bakerton, W. Va., containing more or less, improved by dwelling, barn, corn-house, small orchard, etc., adjoining the late Charles G. Hinkle, Reuben Jenkins, Mrs. George Licklider, and others. All underlaid

145 1-2 ACRES,
